It's never easy to stand out.
But with our high quality steel cookware,
we do it every year.

Being the best never comes easy. So ever since we started off, we set up a state-of-the-art plant, employed the best practices, used the finest raw materials, kept stringent quality control and a retailer-friendly environment. And getting an ISO 9001: 2008, BSCI, SEDEX, WCA, FCCA certification eventually made us the natural choice of buyers from India as well as USA, Europe, Africa, Latin America, Middle East & Far East.

And today, we continue to soar high, as we have take big steps towards reducing our carbon footprint by using solar energy & rainwater harvesting.

We do so much, because we believe that cookware isn't just something you keep in your kitchens. It's something that also reflects the social responsibility of each of us. Globally.
